First Moon Trip Failure, Second Try Is Planned

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The nation's first moon rocket shattered into bits 77 seconds after launching Sunday.

Even before this initial strike at the moon a second attempt had been ordered. The follow-up Air Force lunar probe attempt is expected during a three-day period starting Sept. 14. There was a distinct possibility that the Soviets might attempt to beat the new U. S. deadline by one day.

Plans for another moon rocket try were disclosed as the Air Force began fishing the explosion torn debris of its first lunar vehicle out of the Atlantic.

Divers descended into 60 feet of water some 10 miles northeast of the cape and came up with sections of the metal skin of the Thor 1,500-mile-range missile that was the first stage of the moon rocket.

The two upper stages — both borrowed from the Navy Vanguard program — continued onward an undetermined distance after the explosion. It was not expected that that part of the wreckage would be recovered.

Preliminary analysis indicated that the explosion occurred in the engine compartment of the first of the three rocket stages.

One Sure Thing That Odor Is Awful

STONEHAM, Mass. (AP) — A householder phoned Police Sgt. Andrew J. Tunney and said, "There's an awful odor down here. I think it might be gas."

A cruiser and fire apparatus were dispatched to the scene hurriedly. The emergency crew rushed into the place and rushed right out again.

Red-faced, the embarrassed citizen explained he had moved to suburban Stoneham from the city recently and had never before smelled a skunk. During the confusion the skunk disappeared.

House Facing Decision on Social Security

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
WASHINGTON (AP) — The House faces a decision on what to do about a bill that would boost payments to some 12 million persons now drawing Social Security benefits.

The question before the House is whether to accept amendments adopted by the Senate in a move to avert a possible veto by President Eisenhower.

If acceptance is voted without sending the bill to a Senate-House conference, the measure will go to the White House.

The House on July 31 passed a bill to grant a 7 per cent increase in benefits. The vote was 375-2.

The Senate last Saturday approved a similar 7 per cent benefit boost in passing a S. S. bill. The Senate pared increased federal grants to the states for four public assistance programs to 197 million dollars.

As approved by the House, those grants would total 288 millions. The programs are for the needy, the aged, blind, and disabled and dependent children.

Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.), sponsor of amendments cutting the public assistance grants, said he was certain his motion would prevent a veto.

The Eisenhower administration has been urging that the federal government reduce, not increase, its share of the assistance programs.

Benefit increases for retired persons and recipients of survivor and disability benefits would start in checks received next February.

However, the 75 million persons now contributing in payroll taxes to the Social Security system would have their rates increased next Jan. 1. The maximum boost would be $25.50 a year each for employee and employer.

Social Security insurance beneficiaries now on the rolls would have their checks increased by an average of about $5.75 a month.

The monthly range of benefits, now $30-$108.50 for an individual, would go up to $33-$116. After several years the maximum individual benefit would rise to $127.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bureau of Land Management will offer a 160-acre tract of land in Franklin County, Ark., Aug. 27 for oil and gas leasing. The Department of Interior announced today.

Royalties payable to the United States will be at the rate of 12 1/2 per cent to 25 per cent for oil and 12 1/2 to 18 2/3 per cent for gas. An initial rental or minimum royalty payment will be at the rate of $1 per acre.

Bobby Bain, 35, Hit, Killed by Truck on 67

Bobby Franklin Bain, 35, was killed almost instantly Saturday night when he stepped into the path of a large East Texas Motor Freight truck on Highway 67 about two miles west of Hope. A companion, Fred Perry, narrowly escaped the same fate.

Arkansas State Policeman Guy Downing said the two men ran across the road and Perry barely escaped the truck. The right front fender of the vehicle hit Bain. He was brought to a local hospital by an Onkrest ambulance but was dead on arrival.

Downing listed the truck driver as Crawford Corder, 50, of Little Rock. No charges have been filed. Coroner R. V. Herndon Jr., and Officer Downing said the investigation continues. Also helping with the investigation are City Police and State Patrolman Tom Smalley.

Mr. Bain was a resident of Emmet. He was a veteran of World War II. Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bain of near Hope; two sisters, Mrs. Lucille Willis of Hope and Mrs. Walter Douglas of Ozan.

Services were to be held today at 2 p. m. at Emmet Baptist Church by Ray Lawrence. Burial by Herndon-Cornelius was to be in Snell Cemetery of Emmet.

'Uncle' of Torch Gives Himself Up

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Herman Kierdorf, former Teamsters Union official sought for two weeks in the fire death of his 10-year-old nephew, gave himself up Sunday night and said: "I have nothing to hide."

Other than that, his most frequent remark in interviews with police and newsmen today was "No comment."

The 68-year-old ex-convict and one-time business agent for a Teamsters local, surrendered to authorities at a drive-in restaurant by arrangement.

"I'm happy to have it over with," he said. "I'd like to cooperate, but being innocent, I don't think I could be connected."

Kierdorf, who vanished Aug. 4, refused to say where he had hidden.

He was sought on a warrant charging him with possession of a gun with a silencer. He vanished the same day his nephew, Frank Kierdorf, 10, stumbled into a Pontiac hospital with burns over 85 per cent of his body. Frank died four days later.

Police believe Frank, a Flint Teamsters business agent, was burned while setting fire to a Flint dry cleaning shop.

Earlier Michigan Atty. Gen. Paul Adams called the missing Herman the key to the mystery.

But today, Adams said he had no immediate intention of filing a charge against Herman in connection with the dry cleaning shop fire.

Frank Kierdorf told police before he died that he had been burned deliberately by two men. But police said their investigation disproved his story.

Herman insisted Frank, an ex-convict like himself, did not torch himself, accidentally or otherwise.

Farm Bill Turnabout May Clear for Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate backdown on its objection to farm legislation over the weekend which may have cleared the biggest obstacle to Congressional action.

A vote may come today on a House bill acceptable to Secretary Benson. The Senate at first wanted a conference to iron out portions of the bill it considered objectionable but the House refused.

The bill would prevent sharp cuts in cotton and rice acreage and would go far toward meeting Benson's request for authority to lower price supports and controls.

When the Senate votes it is expected to pass this legislation and the deep concern of Dixie farmers over loss of acreage will be eased. But many farmers still are expected to consider the legislation objectionable in the lower support clauses.

To Explain Conservation Reserve Plan

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Officials of the state Agricultural and Stabilization Conservation Committee will explain the 1959 conservation reserve program at meetings in four Arkansas cities this week and next.

They will give details of the program to county ASC office managers and committeemen at Pine Bluff Wednesday, at Arkansas State College at Jonesboro Thursday, at Henderson State Teachers College at Arkadelphia Friday and at Clarksville Saturday.

Clyde P. Liebong, state ASC administrator, says, "A farmer's 'farmers' can request the rental payment rate to their farms under the 1959 program at any time between Sept. 2 and Oct. 31."

County ASC committeemen will fix the payment rates for farmers who request it and the applicants will have until Oct. 24 to apply for a 1959 contract.

The conservation reserve program provides for withdrawal of cropland from production and putting conservation measures into effect on the land.

Cost of the conservation practices is shared by the federal government which makes annual rental payments for the time each contract is in force.

Average payment rate for Arkansas next year will be $13.50, an increase of $4.50 over 1958. Rates will vary by counties and farms.

MACON, Ga. (AP) — Little Margie Jones, 7, of Melvin, Ky., was found beaten and shot to death today and hours later a deaf mute ex-convict sought as her slayer was killed by pursuing officers.

The deaf mute was Parham Denny Doughty, 32, of Tomsboro, an itinerant safety razor blade peddler.

Margie's body was found about mid-morning tossed out into an old, untended field on a dirt side-road in nearby Washington County where it had lain for about 30 hours.

The new plan was whipped into final form in a busy weekend of conferences between the chief sponsor, Dept. Foreign Minister Hans Engen of Norway, and other key delegates.

The United States was not a sponsor, but informed quarters said the United States would give the proposal full support.

The text was understood to give Hammarskjold the job of working out security arrangements in Lebanon and Jordan to make possible withdrawal of U. S. and British forces.

It also was reported to call on the secretary general to make studies on two of President Eisenhower's Middle East peace proposals — creation of a stand-by peace force and establishment of a regional economic foundation.

The resolution reportedly filled Sunday night to win Arab-Asian support.

A diplomat said some Arab and Asian countries had objected that it did not say specifically that the United States and Britain should withdraw their troops.

Engen has said, however, that he would have a "nice group" of cosponsors in the 81-nation Assembly.

Family Dies in Crash of Plane

SHERIDAN, Ark. (AP) — The sudden fury of a summer thunderstorm probably caused the weekend plane crash that killed a Little Rock pilot, his bride of less than a month and her 6-year-old son by a crash was marriage.

Victims of the crash were James Redmon, 30, a pilot-mechanic for Arkansas Aviation Sales Co., his wife, Mrs. Dottie Cathay Redmon, 37, and Sammie Cathay Redmon, 6.

The family started for El Dorado Saturday night in a four-place plane owned by Redmon's employer. While on a mission, the plane crashed, said a local newsman, on a hillside where he heard a loud noise about 9:30 p. m. during the height of the summer storm.

Emerson said he assumed lightning struck nearby and did not investigate. The next morning while tending his cattle, Emerson spotted the splintered wreckage and the decapitated bodies of the victims.

From appearances, Redmon apparently was trying to land the craft since the engine switches had been turned off. The plane hit an irrigation terrace in the pasture field where he was attempting to land.

Mrs. Redmon is survived by three teenage daughters, Norma, Anne and Nancy.

West Plan for Mid-West Goes Before the UN

By MAX HARRELSON
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)

The U. N. General Assembly emergency meeting today received a Western-backed plan calling on Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to work out arrangements to ease tension in the Middle East.

The plan, embodying several parts of President Eisenhower's peace program, failed to win the backing of Arab and Asian countries but its sponsors predicted it would win the necessary two-thirds majority.

Initial sponsors were Norway, Canada, Colombia and Denmark. Others were expected to join later. The United States and Britain, although not formal sponsors, had a leading part in drafting the proposal and were prepared to give it full support.

Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd submitted letters to the Assembly president, Sir Leslie M. Llewellyn, giving formal assurances U. S. and British forces would be withdrawn from Lebanon and Jordan when stable conditions are restored.

A key part of the letters, designed to ease Arab opposition to the Western resolution, declared that U. S. and British forces would be pulled out as soon as the Assembly determined that the U. N. had taken action that makes their presence unnecessary.

The new plan was whipped into final form in a busy weekend of conferences between the chief sponsor, Dept. Foreign Minister Hans Engen of Norway, and other key delegates.

The United States was not a sponsor, but informed quarters said the United States would give the proposal full support.

Kennedy-Ives Labor Bill Is Killed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House killed the Kennedy-Ives labor control bill Monday.

Republicans led a protest against the procedure under which the bill came to the floor allowing little debate and no amendments.

The Senate passed the measure two months ago by an 88-1 vote. Aimed at curbing thefts of labor funds and safeguarding the rights of union members, the bill grew out of hearings before the Senate Rockefeller Investigating Committee.

It was sponsored by Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Irving Ives (R-N.H.).

Among other things, the bill would have required the disclosure of union finances through public reports to the secretary of labor.

It also would have required secret balloting for union officers, and would have limited the terms of officers.

Little Need to Guess If Nixon Will Run

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington fortune-tellers usually wait for Congress to quit, when the dull days begin, before guessing who'll be running for president in 1960.

But why wait?

There's no need to guess much about Vice President Nixon for the time being, since right now he seems to have the inside track for the Republican nomination. But it's a far-for-all among Democrats and will continue so.

A dozen Democrats with the presidential conventions still two years away already are being mentioned as maybe having a chance for their party's nomination. That's about par for the course. Right now the Democrats don't have one outstanding possibility.

Strangely, not much mention has been given recently to Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas as the Democratic candidate. Perhaps that's because this leader of the Senate Democrats has repeatedly said he has no presidential ambitions.

Maybe he hasn't. But he'd be extraordinary if he didn't. It's this writer's guess he's a man to watch. Saying right now he has no presidential ambitions and yielding later to pressure, internal or external, are different things.

Pressure in 1960 would force him into a decision because his current Senate term—ends that year.

Johnson couldn't run for both the Senate and the presidency. He looks like a cinch to be re-elected if he runs for the Senate again. But if he ran for the presidency and lost, he'd be out of the Senate.

The Democratic party in 1960 may be torn apart in a split between northerners wanting a strong civil rights plank and Southerners burning over the public school integration issue.

It's possible in such a situation Johnson might be used as a compromise candidate to pull the party together. For, while he's a Southerner, it was through his Senate leadership that Congress last year passed the first civil rights bill in this century.

It was a compromise bill, to be sure. It wasn't as much as the Northerners wanted. It was more than the Southerners wanted. Nevertheless, Johnson steered it through.

He's run up a remarkable record for getting things done in a Congress where the Democrats outnumber Republicans and run the show, although Republicans control the executive branch of the government.

How does he get things done? Through a combination of things: he's a compromiser, plays friendly, avoids personal attacks, keeps windbagging to a minimum, and does favors for his fellow senators who thus become his debtors.

Johnson in the Senate could have done nothing of course, unless the Democrats who control the House went along. And they do, under the leadership of Johnson's fellow Texan, Speaker Sam Rayburn.

Rayburn is out of all possible consideration for the presidency. He's 76 now, will be 78 in 1960.

Johnson, on the other hand, has youth on his side. He'll be 50 next week, only 52 in 1960.

At one time a badheart attack might have finished any politician's ambitions for the White House. Johnson had one in 1935. That seemed to spell the finish for him for any job beyond the Senate.

But a few weeks later President Eisenhower had a similar attack and then went on to win reelection in 1950. Where Eisenhower slowed down after his attack, Johnson resumed his old pace.

And Johnson still has two more sessions of Congress in 1959 and 1960 to build himself up for national consideration before the 1960 presidential elections.

No Dough on Pay Day:
This Husband's Secret

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I have rarely seen you treat the subject of gambling husbands, yet it is one of the worst troubles a wife can face. My husband comes home empty handed pay day after pay day—after trips to the race track, a poker game with the boys or just plain betting on baseball pools. He's always very confident and ashamed, promises not to do it again—and doesn't, until the next pay day. Is there any possible cure for him? Weary of horses of the worse vices to cure, chiefly because the gambler doesn't want to be helped. He is always firmly convinced that the next roll of the dice, turn of the cards, or running of the horses will bring him fortune. However, since anything is worth trying in a desperate case and your man does have the grace to be penitent, you might try this: Meet him at the office on pay day and bring him home, hoping that he hasn't met temptation in the building. Good luck.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

My folks won't let me ride a bicycle in the city as they think it is too dangerous. I'm 14. All my friends go on bike trips and I'm left out. I'm sure I have responsibility and common sense.

Dear Blanche: Your parents should let you ride your bike, but if they are worrisome people, there is nothing you can do but abide by their decisions. A sense of responsibility must be constantly developed by progressing from one thing to another—a point that's hard to put over with some cautious parents. In order to avoid being "left out," encourage your friends to have some of their activities locally.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I spend about one weekend a month with my grandparents who live in the city. Their next door neighbors have a son my own age who is a very sweet boy. He often takes me out, and I'd like to write to him between visits. He's very shy, so I think the suggestion would have to come from me. Would it be all right for me to write him first?

Dear Pamela: There are dozens of excuses you could find for writing. Take some pictures on your next outing and send him some. Send him a clipping about his favorite hobby or a cartoon that would appeal to him. A little feminine ingenuity goes a long way—let's hope the boys never know how far.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

Last summer I met a very nice boy, who lives about 400 miles from me. We wrote often, but I have received no replies to the last four letters I sent him. Should I stop writing?

Dear Ruby: You should have stopped two letters ago. The boy has undoubtedly found another summer romance. Why don't you do the same?

President Eisenhower signed burial expense of a military Veteran.

OSCEOLA, Ark. (AP)—James Pike, 25, of Benton County today waived preliminary hearing on a charge of murder in the fatal shooting of the captain of the guard at the county penal farm.

Municipal Judge W. W. Frewitt ordered Pike held without bond for action of the circuit court.

Pike was charged with the gunshot slaying of Capt. John Doyle, 47.

Doyle was wounded July 27 while trying to quell a disturbance at the penal farm. He died last Friday.

GI Home Loan Is Leveling a Bit

The Veterans Administration reported today it received 20,310 appraisal requests during July for proposed housing. Such requests are regarded as an indicator of future GI home loan activity.

This is 119 more than the June requests and 600 below the total in May.

Patterson Lays Title on Line Against Harris

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Under the leadership of Roy Harris from the picturesque community of Cut and Shoot, Tex., tonight takes aim at the heavyweight boxing championship of the world against the heavily favored titlist Floyd Patterson.

The 25-year-old school teacher, who enjoys walking barefooted, battles the New Yorker over a route of 15 pounds or less in Wrigley Field starting at 8 p.m. (PDT).

Clear weather was forecast with theater television carrying the bout to 115 cities, with no home TV nor radio.

Odds favoring the champion for this third title defense were quoted at about 6-1 to win and 3-1 to score a knockout but little wavering action was evident. Still Patterson could find himself against his toughest foe to date, a rugged opponent with 22 straight victories.

Harris hails from the woody Big Thicket country 40 miles from Houston. He remains a mystery man to most since all his bouts have been in his home state and he's never appeared on national television.

The challenger was expected to weigh in today at 192 with the speedy champion at 186. On the financial side, Harris collects a $100,000 guarantee and Patterson might get twice as much on the basis of a guarantee and percentage.

Until the weigh-in at Hollywood Legion Stadium, both remained in seclusion at hotels and both voiced confidence.

"If I didn't think I could beat him," drawled Harris, a graduate high school senior, "I wouldn't have come here." Patterson, a graduate of Sam Houston State Teachers college who considers returning to the books for a master's degree.

On the other hand, career boxer Patterson, who won the title by stopping Archie Moore in five rounds on Nov. 30, 1956, declares he wants to earn a reputation as "a great champion."

"His only two defenses have been against the easily hit Tommy (Harrienne) Jackson and Pete Rademacher whose claim to fame was victory in the 1956 Olympics. Patterson stopped Jackson in 10 rounds on July 29 last year and blasted the clumsy Rademacher out in six.

"I'm not a great champion as far as I'm concerned," said the 23-year-old Negro from Mount Vernon, N.Y., the youngest man ever to win the crown. "A great champion is one who proves himself. I haven't had that chance."

Patterson, known for his speedy combinations and power in both hands, could find trouble against the sturdy 6-footer whose relatives gained note by fighting bare-knuckled in their community.

Tonight the boxer wear 8-ounce gloves with scoring on the 10-point must system. The winner of each round wins 10 points and the loser 9 or less, depending on his showing. The referee and two judges will render the verdict should the engagement go the 15 rounds, a distance neither fighter has traveled.

It was nearly a year ago, on Aug. 22, that Patterson whipped Rademacher who made his professional debut in the title bout at Seattle. Some observers believe the 361-day layoff may hurt the champ's timing. Since turning professional after winning the 1952 Olympic middle weight championship, Patterson has won 33 times and lost once.

The financial arrangements guarantee Harris $100,000 for his night's work. Patterson receives a guarantee of $20,000 from Teleprompter, the firm handling the fight on television plus 50 per cent of the net gate. But Harris' $100,000 comes out of Floyd's take in the novel financial arrangement.

East Gridders Eke Out Victory Over the West

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Nobody should have much trouble picking the winner of the next year's annual High School All-Star football game. Just determine the favorite, then take the other team. That's one of the oldest traditions carried out here Saturday night when the East came from behind for a 6-0 victory over the favored West.

It was the third classic clash and the third time the underdog had won.

The East Planters had been touted as a team with a strong defense and a questionable offense but they removed all question with a determined second quarter touchdown march that gave them a lead they never relinquished.

An East drive that opened on the West 47 ended in a touchdown when halfback David Alpe of Lake Village skirted left end wide from the three or a pletchout.

That overcame a West lead that resulted from a 23-yard field goal by Port Smith's Bill Framel early in the opening period. Framel's boot was set up by a recovered East fumble.

Each team got at least one other scoring opportunity but neither could push through.

The West's Rangers had a chance to sew up a victory in the closing minutes when a blocked kick gave them the ball on the East's 12-yard line. But again the Planter defense was too stiff and the West was forced to surrender possession with 59 seconds left.

After the West's first quarter field goal and the East's second quarter touchdown, the game turned into a battle of defenses in the final half. And that was right up the Planter's alley.

The East defense held the West's highly touted runners to a total of 65 yards rushing and preventing any of four passes from being completed.

Meanwhile the east offense—regarded in pre-game talk as inferior—sliced through the line and occasionally skirted wide to roll up 214 yards on the ground. Two pass attempts were incomplete.

The East got 11 first downs, the West three.

Pine Bluff's Robert Johnston, a tackle, was named the game's outstanding player by a panel of college coaches picked by the Arkansas High School Coaches Assn.

Barons Bid for Flag May Get Boost

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Birmingham's bid for its first Southern Assn. pennant since 1931 ought to get a big boost this week. The Barons move into their favorite park, the one in Atlanta, to open a four-game series tonight with the second place Crackers.

Birmingham retained its half-game lead over Atlanta yesterday by winning New Orleans 3-1 while the Crackers were topping third place Mobile 4-1. Chattanooga lightened its grip on fourth place by sweeping Memphis 3-0 and 6-1. Nashville and Little Rock were rained out.

Atlanta and Birmingham close out the Atlanta half of their season series this week. In seven parallel games at Ponce de Leon park, the host Crackers eked out one decision, a 3-2 squeaker exactly one month ago.

New Orleans moves to Mobile tonight, and Nashville stays another day at Little Rock to make up the rainout before hurrying home for a set with astart Chattanooga. Duro Chattanooga at Memphis. Little Rock will open its next series tomorrow night at Memphis.

Union Official Goes to Trial at El Dorado

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Two panels of prospective jurors were exhausted today as trial of former Union County Treasurer Fred Long opened in circuit court here.

Long is charged with embezzling $20,000 in county funds.

Only seven jurors had been seated when Judge Gus W. Jones ordered a noon recess. A total of 10 persons had been questioned for jury duty. Most of those rejected said they had already formed an opinion in the case.

Prosecutor Bill Brewett had used up his total of six challenges when the judge issued a call for a new jury panel to appear after recess.

Long, a 46-year-old veteran and father of six children, was indicted June 9 by the Union County Grand Jury on a felony charge of misappropriating $22,538 in public funds.

Arkansas officials have said Long spent the money on a Shreveport, La., woman who has been ordered to appear here for the trial.

Long has maintained the money was taken from his office during a robbery April 15. He said officers he was attacked from behind and bound and gagged while alone in his office during the noon hour.

Long was removed from office after the Grand Jury indicted him. The Western Surety Company of Sioux Falls, S. D. — which reimbursed the state for the loss—later filed suit against Long for recovery of the money.

District Court Judge John Dixon of Shreveport ruled that her testimony would be material and directed her to attend the trial.

In addition to the felony count, Long was indicted by the Grand Jury earlier on a misdemeanor charge of malfeasance, misfeasance and nonfeasance of office.

Conviction on the felony charge could result in a penitentiary term of five to 21 years. The misdemeanor counts could bring up to a year in County Jail or a fine of $250, or both.

2 Dangerous Escapees Are Still at Large

The two still at large were in a group of four who broke out of the hospital Saturday night after taking keys from an attendant at gunpoint.

They are Bobby Milam, 22, of Humnoka, and Rosnick Franklin, 16, of Moro Bay. Milam reportedly was armed with a .32 caliber pistol.

One of the four — Gordon Sullivan, 18, of Pine Bluff — returned to the hospital Saturday night and a second was captured yesterday in a Pine Bluff movie theater.

While city police surrounded the theater, Deputy Sheriff Buck Oliver entered the theater and took Charles Sellers, 16, a Pine Bluff resident, into custody.

Oliver said Sellers was unarmed and put up no resistance. An anonymous tip led to his arrest.

The four escapees from a ward of the hospital's maximum security building where persons under criminal charges are sent for observation.

Their breakout brought 14 Little Rock police units to the area, adjacent to War Memorial Stadium where thousands watched the Arkansas High School All-Star football game.

Sullivan, who returned to the hospital shortly after the escape, said he left the other three when they declared they would shoot anyone who tried to capture them.

Sellers told police after his capture yesterday that he had separated from the others before they left the hospital grounds.

He was held at Pine Bluff awaiting return to Little Rock.

Dr. Miles Kelly, staff psychiatrist and officer of the day at the hospital, said Milam had obtained a gun from an unknown source.

Negro Held in Killing of State Trooper

OSCEOLA, Ark. (AP) — A Negro captured in an intensive manhunt yesterday entered a plea of guilty today to a charge of murdering State Trooper Ermon Cox.

The farmhand was bound over without bond to the circuit court.

In a preliminary hearing, Municipal Judge W. W. Brewett ordered William Young, 29, of Jackson, Miss., held under heavy guard in the Mississippi County Jail here to protect the prisoner against possible attack by the general public.

Approximately 15 police officers escorted Young back to his jail cell after the hearing.

The 35-year-old Cox was shot by a high powered rifle as he attempted to arrest a negro early yesterday afternoon.

Young was apprehended by two volunteers who were in a pose of almost a hundred armed men who were searching an area along the Mississippi River.

The slain trooper's 9 year old son Bennie witnessed his father's death and furnished a description of the assailant.

Young was picked up shortly after he landed a boat at a fishing camp on the river about 15 miles north of here. He denied any knowledge of the shooting.

Sheriff William Berryman said Trooper Cox was killed after he chased a motorist to a farmhouse near the Mississippi. The motorist fled into the house, returned with a rifle and shot the trooper as he backed his car from the yard, the sheriff said.

Cox was off duty at the time and had taken his son to the store with him shortly before the incident.

The search drew about 40 officers and 40 armed volunteers with high powered rifles and walkie talkies. Several airplanes flew over the rugged back country about a mile north of Memphis, Tenn., trying to spot the assailant.

Long-range rifles were called for when it was believed the suspect had fled to Cook's Island, a 1,000-acre plot in the Mississippi, infected with snakes and covered with willow trees.

Cox had been with the state police about a year. He lived here with his wife and two children, Bennie and Diane.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cox of Paragould, had arrived for a visit yesterday morning.

Chapter XIX

Ken asked, in a low voice, "Was that when you called me home? Was Bob the strange man that tried to break into the house?"

"Ken, please," Marsha said with a sob, "I couldn't be sure."

"Sure!" Edna scoffed. "I'll tell you what's sure. You wanted something to tell Ken that would make him let you go home to your mother's. And I'll bet you had a busy time trying to think of something. You say you came home to help pack. Ken, well, I don't think you were needed."

Marsha brought the suitcase in about noon.

Ken's expression was pained and he started to speak, but Edna was not to be stopped. Her face was venomous as she continued to spit words at Marsha.

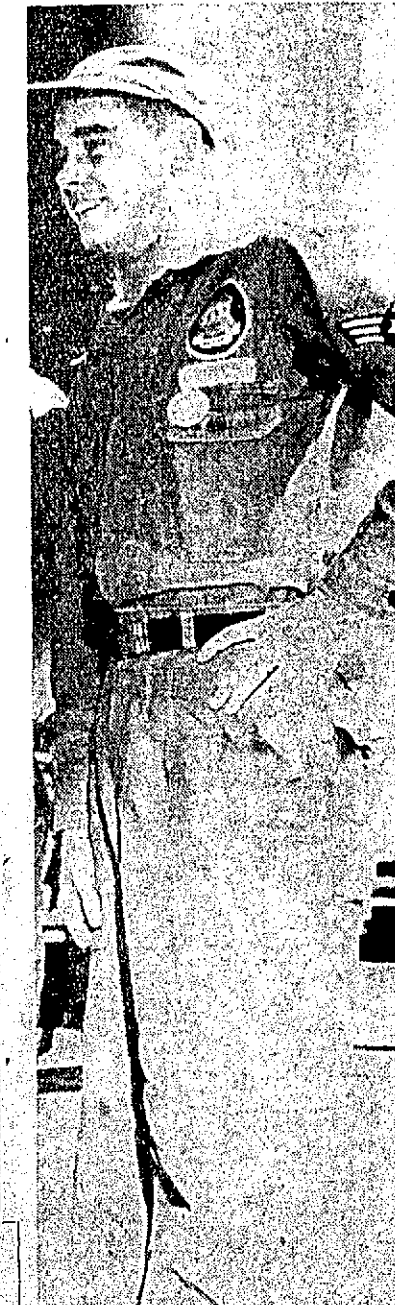

"You turn my stomach. You live in a constant state of wanting your mother, even if you are almost 30 and twice a mother yourself. You want her so much that you're willing to let her hurt you, your husband, means nothing."

If ever there was a case of arrested development, you're it, and I think that Ken and the children would be better off if you went to your precious mother and stayed there."

Marsha had her say, just as she had intended, but now she felt a little sick. Deep inside she had a growing feeling that she had needed to say so much.

The look on Ken's face stayed with her. It betrayed his acceptance of her words over Marsha's and caused her to wonder if the lesson, "Vengeance is mine, said the Lord," was more an act of love than a rule she had taken vengeance into her own hands.

Seeing the kids off had left Ken Taylor with a deep feeling of loneliness. Their happiness and knob of the door.

Ken took his foot off of the brake and allowed the car to coast to the curb. He pulled on the emergency brake and quietly, but swiftly, slid from the seat. He didn't close the door because of the noise, and he tipped across the back of the seat.

The intruder was busily fumbling with the door knob and he wasn't aware of Ken's presence, until he was grabbed roughly by the arm and jerked around.

"What do you think you're doing?" Ken shouted as he swung on the unresisting figure.

His fist connected with the man's chin and he fell to the walk. The force of the blow had carried him back, and there was a sickening thud, as his head hit the brick border of the flower bed. He didn't move, just lay there in a slack heap, with one leg twisted under him at an impossible angle.

Ken unlocked the door and hurried to the telephone. He called the police and reported having caught a prowler. Maybe it was just having something concrete to fight that pleased him, but he felt as if he had just saved the fort from the Indians. He was very proud of himself.

He turned on the porch light and started inside to keep an eye on the intruder. As he stepped through the door, his foot kicked something soft. Almost without thinking, he stooped and picked it up.

It was a package wrapped in brown paper and in a crumpled hand was addressed to Joy With shaking hands he opened it, and found a roughly knitted doll's sweater inside.

It was as if he had taken a low blow. He knew the identity of the man, and it took almost more guts than he could muster to go near the sprawled, unconscious figure of Mr. Cornwell.
